5th Army Chief Inspects Camp

Major General J. M. Gavin, chief of staff of the Fifth Army from Chicago, flew to Grayling last week to meet Major General Ralph A. Loveland, Michigan National Guard Commanding General and Colonel George B. Ely, who is handling expansion plans of Camp Grayling, for an inspection tour of the camp and an inspection of the proposed plans of enlargement.

The expansion program for Camp Grayling, which will cost, it is estimated, $1,800,000, is now nearly completed as far as plans are concerned. The huge enlargement project was outlined to members of the Grayling Kiwanis Club by Col. Ely at a club meeting held during the encampment period last summer.

The State Guard will undoubtedly request a state appropriation of approximately $897,000 when the 1949 Legislature convenes. That amount has been estimated as the State's share with the remainder being furnished by the Federal government.

A spokesman said the camp was designed for 4,500 men, but that last summer he had to house 7,000 men of the enlarged Guard and should be expanded to accommodate 14,000 to 15,000 men. Additional roads, storehouses, mess halls, bathhouses, water and sewer facilities and headquarters buildings will be needed, it was said.

The names of the officers elected were placed in nomination before the club by Charles E. Moore, who served as chairman of this year's nominating committee.

Alfred J. Sorenson was named as first vice president and William Joseph as second vice president by unanimous consent also. Max Davenport and Charles Piper were elected to the club's board of directors for three year terms, likewise by a full concurring vote of the membership.

WYANDOTTE WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

At a recent wedding of interest to Grayling people Doris Walbridge became the bride of Emory Craft, Jr., on October 2 at a ceremony performed by Dr. Warren from the Presbyterian Church, Wyandotte.

The bride wore a pink colonial gown of brocade taffeta with a hoop skirt and finger tip veil. Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Walbridge, 301 Roehrig St., Trenton, and Emory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Craft, Jr., Grayling, Michigan.

Mrs. Alice Shultz, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a deep rose taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of blue mums.

Pat Harwood of Grayling was best man and Harry Walbridge, brother of the bride and Don Schulz were ushers.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. The bride's mother wore a gown of royal blue with a corsage of white mums. The Emory Crafts, Sr., came from Grayling for the ceremony. Mrs. Craft wore a grey suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink mums.

Among the guests were 175 friends and relatives from Lansing, Bay City, Saginaw, Dundee, Greenville, Detroit and Toledo, Ohio.

Following a reception in the church house, the young couple left for a honeymoon in Chicago and will be at 325 Clinton Street, in Wyandotte, Michigan.

REV. GLEN TO BE AT CALVARY BAPTIST

Rev. Arthur A. Glen of Escanaba, Michigan, secretary-treasurer of the Hiawatha League, Missions of the Upper Peninsula, will be in the Calvary Baptist Church Thursday evening at 7:30, giving a Pictorial account of the spread of the gospel of Christ in the Upper Peninsula.

The Florida meetings just closed were a grand success, well attended, good interest and much good accomplished. People were strengthened as they viewed coming events in the light of God's word and of Him who said, "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

FINAL RITES FOR MRS. FLOYD TAYLOR

Rev. Parke Newcombe officiated at the final rites in the Methodist Church in Hubbardston. Mrs. Henry Tabor accompanied by Mrs. Clifford Sible at the organ sang "Every Heart Breathes a Prayer" and "In the Garden." Interment was in the West Side Cemetery. James McKee, Vernon Marion, Thomas Jeff, Richard Kane and Thomas and Patrick Cunningham of Hubbardston, former schoolmates of Mrs. Taylor, served as pallbearers.

War On Rats Begun

Battle To Be Fought November 5

Plans have been completed for the campaign to destroy all rats possible in Kalkaska and Crawford counties. All schools have been contacted and every boy and girl in these counties have been supplied with an order blank. If, for any reason, you have not been contacted you can order the bait by calling at any school in the county. The teachers have extra blanks.

All the business men should put out at least one package or more of along alleys and around old buildings, especially where food is stored or handled. Remember the bait costs only 50c and orders will not be taken after Thursday night, October 28.

Whether prices of grain and food are high or low, no one likes to provide a living for rats. The best way to control these pests is to apply control methods on all properties at the same time. It helps most to "kill 'em, starve 'em and build 'em out" before winter sets in.

It pays to rat proof a bin, crib or room where food is stored. Also, choosing the proper baiting will help greatly in preventing rats from moving in and out of buildings at will. This can be done with little expense by using hardware cloth, closing openings, especially along foundation walls and around doors and windows, it is well to keep in mind that rats can squeeze through openings half their size. One quart of the eight inch mesh hardware cloth will stop rats and mice.

Local Taverns Face Hearing

Five local taverns have been cited before the State Liquor Control Commission and their owners must appear at Traverse City for hearings on November 4, according to a statement released by the Commission today.

All five are charged with selling or serving minors and allowing minors to consume alcoholic beverages. One, The American Legion Club, is also charged with serving non-members, the release stated.

The majority of the cases grew out of a group of young National Guard members visiting the taverns and purchasing or consuming alcoholic beverages during the encampment period last summer. It was said. The investigation of the affair was conducted by Liquor Inspector Louis Stillwagon of Grayling assisted by Crawford County Sheriff William F. Golinick and State Police of the Grayling Post.

The taverns and owners cited, according to the Commission release are: Plaza Grill, Hattie and Arthur Worden; Duke's Hotel; Stanley and Walter Dudekewicz; American Legion Club; Post Office Wayside Inn; Charles and Helen Kovach; Hoerl's Tavern, Harry Hoerl.

With the huge influx of men into Grayling during the National Guard encampment, it is not surprising that the charges should be treated leniently because of the exceptional condition. One of the investigating officers, who did not wish to be quoted by name, said he felt there was absolutely no thought in the tavern owner's mind to serve minors. He said it was just a case of a huge influx of men that proved too large for the relatively small places of business to handle.

WAKELEY-WILLIS VOWS SPOKEN

Vows were repeated in home rites on Tuesday, October 19, which united in marriage Bessie Wakeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Wakeley of Fletcher, and Ross James Willis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross J. Willis, Sr., of Cadillac, Michigan. Rev. W. W. Pledge of the First Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony.

Orchid and white mums decorated the living room at the home of the bridegroom's parents, for the ceremony which was witnessed by 35 guests. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. VanderVliet attended the couple.

The bride wore a dress of aqua wool gabardine with black accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums and gladioli. Her matron of honor was dressed in grey wool crepe and wore a corsage identical to that of the bride.

A tiered wedding cake flanked by yellow mums and tapers, centered the bridal table at the reception held at the home following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Grayling High School and is employed at Hanson's Sporting Goods Store. The bridegroom attended Cadillac High School and is employed at Werl's Lone Pine Inn.

The young couple will be at home to their friends at 301 Maple St., Grayling.

Mr. Babcock passed away at his home Sunday, October 25, after a two year illness. Death was attributed to a rheumatic heart. Rev. R. C. Puffer officiated at the military funeral and pallbearers were members of the American Legion, Post 108. Interment was to be in Elmwood Cemetery.

A Grayling Bow Hunter's Jamboree and bear barbecue has been set for this Saturday afternoon and evening at the Grayling Winter Sports Park. The affair is being sponsored by the Grayling Sportsmen's Club.

The jamboree will start at 1 o'clock and is expected to wind up about 7 P. M. There will be several live animal traps and broadhead or hunting arrows will be used in all of the skill shooting. Among the attractions will be a 14 target field course shoot with deer targets, a famous sausage shoot, part of the evening and a target course in which a target course will be shot entirely from a canoe on the lagoon at the park.

An entrance fee of $1.00 will be charged for the admission price for children under 12 years of age. Besides the shooting attractions there will be music, movies and a banquet. A free feature of the banquet will be the bear meat for every one. The bear was shot by Fred Bromwell, well-known Manistee river sportsman and guide on October 13 with bow and arrow. Bromwell donated the bear to the club for the jamboree.

There have been several other novelty shooting games planned for the jamboree, complete with prizes. It is expected that the affair will draw between 100 and 200 archers from all over the state.

Bowling Instructor To Be At Alleys Nov 4-5

George Young, member of the E. and B. bowling team who are currently leading the Greater Detroit Classic League, will be at Spike's Recreation alleys next week to instruct both men and women in bowling.

Special classes for women will be held each afternoon and for men from 6:30 P. M. until 8 P. M. on both November 4 and 5. Young should prove a popular and efficient instructor as he has a perfect 300 game to his credit this year. Early this month he qualified for the State Single Matches with 3875 pins in 18 games for an average during the first quarter of 204 pins. During the next quarter in the State Singles, he rolled 3745 pins during the 18 games for an average of 207.19 per game. Young is a veteran Detroit bowler and was a member of the World Champion Stroh's bowling team several years ago.

Qualified Electors Are Urged To Exercise Voting Privilege

Voters of Crawford County will be handed five separate ballots on November 2 on which to mark their preferences for National, state and local officials as well as the referendum ballots regarding six amendments and a general revision of the state constitution.

Largest of these official ballots gives the candidates of seven different political parties for the various state, congressional, legislative and county offices. This ballot measures 19 inches across and 25 inches in length. The parties which have certified candidates in the order they appear on the ballot in this election are: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist Labor, Socialist Workers, Progressive, and Socialist.

18-Year Olds Must Register

All men in Crawford County must register with the Crawford County Selective Service Board within 5 days after their 18th birthday, Board Clerk Clarence B. Johnson said today.

According to the National Selective Service Act, the youth turning 18 years of age have only the 5 day period within which to register, he said. The Board's offices are in the County Treasurer's Office at the Crawford County Court house in Grayling.

The official presidential ballot lists only the candidates for the office of president and vice president which have been named by the seven political parties listed above. This ticket cannot be split. The ballot measures 24 inches across and 23 inches long.

Two referendum ballots will be submitted to the voters in Michigan. One, measuring 5 by 8 inches asks only one question: "Shall a convention for the purpose of a general revision of the constitution be held?" The voters may indicate by marking yes or no.

Wave Faces Pellston Friday In Grid Season Finale

Krage stood out in the line as they alternated in stopping Joel Ayers, outstanding Legion star of the Harbor Springs Rams.

The play of the Grayling line should certainly make Coach Joe Bogart proud as all season long, no team has been able to make consistent yardage through the center of the Grayling line. Bob Lozon, big Wave guard also stood out in the forward wall, playing with a cast on his left hand because of a broken thumb which required two days before a practice session. Elery Horning, at left tackle, turned in a fine performance. He substituted for Jim Feldhauser who is out because of a back injury for the remainder of the season. Hanson turned in a great job on pass catching.

Loss Battle To Harbor Rams, 13-7

Grayling travels to Pellston on Friday afternoon to wind up their 1948 football season. They will meet an eleven win team, the Harbor Rams, who have a reputation of having a rough going team and with the improvement that the Grayling squad has shown in the past few weeks it should be a real battle.

In a hard fought battle at Harbor Springs last Friday, the hapless Grayling Green Wave again came off second best in a 13 to 7 defeat. The Wave ripped off to a swell start scoring a touchdown within two minutes of the starting gun. Grayling end Carl Hanson gathered in a pass from Wave back Jack Trudeau on a "sleeper play" and galloped 70 yards to the Rams' four yard line before Ayers of Harbor Springs, one of the conference's best backs overtook him. The Rams forward wall stiffened and held the rampaging Wave for three running plays. On fourth down Trudeau flipped another aerial to Hanson in the left flat for the score. Claude Parkinson added the extra point on a snappy reverse.

The Rams came right back with a flashy aerial game that in the end produced both of their scores. The final completed pass was brought back for an offensive interference by a Harbor end, but on the following play, a pass clicked to the Wave four yard line. The Wave line dug in for a goal line stand and after breaking up two Ram running plays, the Harbor quarterback passed to the Rams' end in the flat for the touchdown. Grayling received the kickoff and failing to gain, Trudeau kicked out of bounds with the Rams smashing back to the Grayling ten yard line. Three plays by Harbor yielded nothing and on fourth down, Ayres went around the Wave right end and hurled over the top of the State Singles, he rolled 3745 pins during the 18 games for an average of 207.19 per game. Young is a veteran Detroit bowler and was a member of the World Champion Stroh's bowling team several years ago.

Mr. Leadbeater was a former resident of Grayling, being employed while here by the M. C. Railroad Co.

exercise this right. As a privilege, a responsibility, and an example, a vote should be cast by every eligible individual on November 2. 28

On the ballots are amendments which pertain to education. The objectives of American Education Week bring out the fact that it is the duty of every citizen, first to consider these amendments soberly and thoughtfully in relation to the welfare of his children and his community—and second, to vote. His final decision is his personal privilege, but his vote is the exercise of a constitutional guarantee. 28

The American Legion hereby offers its support and assistance to any educational project sponsored by community organizations which may be planned during that week or during the coming year. On a date to be published later Open House will be held at the school, so that the community may know of the educational progress of its children. The public is invited and is urged to avail itself of this opportunity. 28

The girls of troop 6 held a pet 28

show last Wednesday evening following their regular meeting, which proved to be very entertaining for family and friends. Mrs. Syvoni Holm, Miss Ann Holm and Mrs. Huri Deckrow acted as judges. They chose for first prize, a pair of kittens, "Peter and Lucy," dressed as twins, entered by Dorothy Kolka. Second prize, a dog, "Sport," dressed as a gentleman, entered by Nancy Sorenson. Third prize, a dog, "Knut" entered by Denise Sorenson. 28

On Saturday, October 16, the girls cooked their supper of bacon eggs and toast, over an open fire at the grove as one of the projects to earn their second class pins. Several ways of earning money for the troop have been discussed and decided upon. They plan to continue with their "rag drive," which they started last year, and are now selling the "quaint shop" greeting cards and stationery. Each girl is working hard so as to earn a free subscription to the "American Girl" the official Girl Scout magazine. 28

Will You Vote Tuesday?

Next Tuesday, the general election will be held and, you as a citizen of this country will have your opportunity to have your say about the officers that will serve you and also something to say about some state amendments and a revision of the State Constitution.

Mr. Average citizen usually is at the polls and casts his ballot during every election, but the percentage of eligible voters who vote is horribly small. Political personage the world over are watching the American Presidential Election and also the number of American citizens who cast their ballot. Many European politicians would be happy with a small vote. It would prove to them that America in general is not aware of world conditions and evidently doesn't care either.

Ever since this Union of 13 states was formed writers and editors have tried to put across to the people that voting was not a duty but a privilege—and although it is discouraging, they are still trying to do that very thing. Voting in Grayling or any township in Crawford County is a matter of minutes. It is never necessary to wait for any time at all in comparison to the wait in the big cities.

And your votes does count. How many times do we hear people say, "No, I didn't vote. My one little ballot won't change the election." Enough apathy of that type and a will of the people is upset by a well organized minority who do get out and vote. For proof of that statement, we could refer you to several smaller Mid-European countries.

How you vote is your business—If you vote, is the business of every citizen who thinks anything of his country, state and county. For your own sake, cast your ballot next Tuesday.—R. W. S.

Health
NEWS

"Health News" is presented by your Doctor of Medicine in health service of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Scarlet Fever Threat

While there is no danger of an epidemic, reports of recent increases in the number of Scarlet Fever cases have caused doctors of medicine again to advise parents to have their children protected from the disease. Scarlet Fever is sometimes severe and sometimes mild; in either case it is contagious and may be spread by discharge from the nose and throat of an infected person or by Scarlet Fever carriers. The disease also can be spread by milk which has been contaminated by persons with Scarlet Fever.

According to the Michigan bureau of disease control, there have been 3,550 cases of Scarlet Fever so far this year. State regulations require that every case of the disease be reported to health authorities to prevent serious outbreaks in a community.

The doctor of medicine can detect whether your child has retained his inherited protection against the disease by giving him the Dick test. If the spot where the Dick test is made turns red, the test indicates the child is at least susceptible to Scarlet Fever. If the skin remains a normal color, the test is negative.

If the test is positive and the child has recently been exposed to Scarlet Fever, the doctor may advise giving Scarlet Fever antitoxin for temporary protection. The child may be protected against future exposure with injections of Scarlet Fever toxin, which usually protect a person against the disease for several years.

The first symptoms of the disease appear within a week after exposure and include nausea, fever and sore throat followed by a rash on the second or third day. A doctor of medicine should be called at once if a person is suspected of having the disease. He will know how to treat it and prevent the serious complications that often set in, including heart, kidney or ear disorders.

State Police Recruits Wanted

Sergeant William Irish, commander of the Houghton Lake post of the Michigan State Police, will be at his office from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., Tuesday, November 9, 1948, to interview young men interested in joining the department.

"While candidates for enlistment may make application at any time, this day is being set aside especially for interviews with those who desire to learn more about the department and to help them in filling out their application blanks." Sgt. Irish said. "We are at present conducting a recruiting effort in preparation for another training school. We expect to get enough graduates out of this school to bring our force up to authorized strength, so it is advisable that candidates do not delay, but act now in filing their applications. Succeeding schools will be held only to make replacements unless authorization is given to increase the size of the department."

Candidates must be between 21 and 30 years of age, inclusive, physically fit, unmarried, and have a high school education or its equivalent. Regarded as a career service, the State Police subsistence in addition to salary, civil service employment, security, interesting work, promotion based on merit, paid vacations, sick leave and a pension. In addition, the Veterans' Administration has classified the State Police training school as on-the-job training and veterans are eligible for extra compensation under the GI bill. While candidates will find it advantageous to call at the post, Sgt. Irish said, they need not do so, but may obtain information and application blanks by writing to the Civil Service Commission or the Michigan State Police in Lansing.

LOTS OF HUNTERS

The so-called Mio district—Alcona, Iosco, Ogemaw, Crawford, Osceola and Roscommon Counties—attracted approximately 94,000 deer hunters during the 1947 season, or nearly as many as ordinarily hunt in the whole of the Upper Peninsula.

Reprint of an Editorial from the Detroit News Sunday, October 10, 1948

Whom to support for President is a question every voter has to answer in his own way, and for some it may have been, or perhaps still is, a far from easy question.

The News, for its part, has been in no doubt at any time since the Philadelphia conventions.

When Gov. Dewey was chosen, there was no question left for us.

Why that should be is not a long or complicated story. The choice, for us, lay between two men, and, for us, was self-answering.

It was a choice to be made against a darkening background of world events that, as everyone by now must see, will demand of the next President more, possibly, than any man could bring to the job.

At best, we shall have need of clear thinking, sober judgment and incisive leadership in the White House.

Mr. Dewey, by education and training and on his record as Governor of New York, meets those requirements.

Mr. Truman, on his record, does not.

We say that with all respect for the office the latter holds and, indeed, for the man. Mr. Truman usually has meant well, we think, and in the larger issues thrust on him has tried to do his best, which at its worst, however, has been alarmingly bad.

We are not referring to such matters as his cheap, or sophomoric, proposal of an astonishing range of advanced social legislation, some of it good but none having a chance of present enactment, even were world conditions different. Such matters can be forgotten, for it is evident that domestic legislation of that sort is to have small place in American thoughts for some time to come.

What needs recalling, cruel though it may be, is the kind of thing typified by Mr. Truman's pre-delivery approval of the Wallace speech with which the then Secretary of Commerce launched his career as an appeaser of Russia. Mr. Truman, to put it bluntly, simply did not understand. He does not understand.

Fortunately for the country, one of his few discerning appointments has been that of an able man as Secretary of State. Yet there are some decisions of foreign policy a President must, or may choose to, make himself.

Whenever Mr. Truman has thus asserted himself we have witnessed the kind of vagaries that made of the Palestine policy, for example, until recently a thing of indescribable confusion, dismaying alike to Americans and to their friends abroad.

America is entering upon times when such errors of misplaced self-confidence may have dreadfully irrevocable consequences.

As our President, we have a choice of one, Truman, whose highest responsibility before coming to Washington has been that of a county official, and one, Dewey, who in two terms as governor of a great state and in two Presidential campaigns has shown marked capacity for statecraft.

Gov. Dewey possesses keen intelligence, a studious temperament, cool judgment and a considerable gift for leadership.

The News rates him much the better risk as custodian of America's destiny these next four years.

The seven foods she lists as
"musts" for every day consumption are: (1) milk, or milk products; (2) vegetables; (3) fruits; (4) eggs; (5) cereals and breads; (6) butter, or other fats; and (7) meat (with fish or legumes as substitutes). Various quantities of these should be served adults and children, but for a balanced diet a moderate portion of each should be eaten every day.

With prices high in the meat department, the cheaper cuts that fit within one's income may often be bought, or substitutes procured.

Seven tips in wise food buying which Mrs. Voorhes presents for housewives are:

(1) Find a reliable merchant and buy from him regularly.

(2) Buy as large a quantity of a certain food as you can without having the food deteriorate.

(3) Buy foods in season. This will insure freshness and also keep costs down.

(4) Buy by weight. Check weights on goods to see if a cheaper priced commodity weighs as much as the one that is higher priced.

(5) Be selective in choosing fresh fruits and vegetables. Look for quality and don't depend on bargains. If you can get both, so much the better.

(6) Buy canned goods by grade and brand names. Know the products upon which you can rely. If trying a new brand, buy the smallest possible quantity to compare with others you have tried.

(7) Cost account your meals.
Compare costs of canned food with fresh and frozen foods.

Frozen foods often sell for less than either canned or fresh, and are equally nutritious. Cost accounting applies to pies versus puddings. Puddings are less costly and in many cases provide more food value than pies.

With careful planning an adult eating at home can live adequately on eight dollars a week and have all the necessary foods required for a good diet, Mrs. Voorhes says.

About one-third of those who cured had adequate treatment been started in time.

Want To Join Our Club?

Newcomers to our town are puzzled when they hear talk of "The Barbecue Club." Want to know who can join, and what the purpose is.

Well, the answer is: any one can join who's neighborly inclined. The purpose is simply to enjoy good food, good beer and ale, good conversation—all towards getting to know one another better.

Every other Saturday, at one farm or another, the pit is dug, and the fire started. And by sundown, neighbors from miles around have come together—the women contributing cakes, pies, and coffee, the men contributing the meat for barbecuing, and the beer or ale.

From where I sit, it's this simple wholesome side of country life in America—its spirit of good-fellowship—that makes for tolerance and better understanding between neighbors.

As I say, Neighbor, any one can join up! So come along a week from this Saturday.

meeting is to start promptly at 11 A. M. at the V. A. Hall, Grayling, Michigan, on Friday, November 5th.

One of the important purposes of the annual meeting will be the election of two directors for a term of three years. The terms of George H. MacKenzie of Johannesburg and Ed Hartung of Levering expire at this meeting. Mr. MacKenzie is not a candidate for re-election because he feels he is too busy with farm work to attend to the duties of the office properly.

The nominating committee, composed of Paul Tippet of Harbor Springs, Frank Dreffs of Grayling and Joseph Kozanek of Grayling have nominated the following candidates: Ed Hartung of Levering, Lee Bosma of Harbor Springs for Emmet County area and Albert Kassuba of Grayling and Joseph Theisen of Grayling for the Otsego County area. These men will be candidates for the two directors to be elected in addition to any who may be mentioned from the floor.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be George Susens, president of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul.

In addition to the regular business the board has succeeded in getting Mr. Earl Parchman of Williamston who will provide 45 minutes of excellent entertainment. Those who attended the Potato and Apple show at Bellaire last year will agree with this.

Free lunch will be served at noon. All stockholders are urged to attend. The meeting this year is open only to stockholders and their families.

Breakfast, Most Important Meal

Are you feeling down in the dumps? Chances are you didn't eat a good breakfast. That's what the Michigan Department of Health says.

What did you eat? Breakfast, the most important meal in the day, is the most neglected meal, especially among women and children. Mrs. Alice Smith, chief Nutritionist of the Department, said today: "Nine poor breakfasts are eaten for every good breakfast in the state. A good breakfast includes: (1) fruit or fruit juice, preferably citrus; (2) whole grain or enriched cereal or bread; (3) milk; and (4) butter or fortified margarine. None of these four items should be omitted from any breakfast, and in addition, growing children need eggs, bacon, sausage or other breakfast meat."

Breakfast neglect is most common among children, particularly teen-agers, among office workers, among plant and factory workers and among housewives, especially the mothers of little children. It reveals itself in irritability, fatigue, poor morale, lowered efficiency and ability to concentrate, less care with work, poor work performance, nervousness, accidents — and even wrinkles, Mrs. Smith said.

The time between dinner at night at breakfast the following day is the longest interval between meals. The human mind and body need refueling for efficiency and smooth operation during the morning and early afternoon hours.

The U. S. Bureau of Human Nutrition has found that those who skip breakfast get less done in the first working hours and become less efficient as the morning hours progress. War time study showed that most industrial accidents occurred between 11 and noon — to those who had little or no breakfast.

Excuses usually given for eating poor breakfasts are (1) "haven't time," (2) "not hungry," and (3) "fattening."

The Department of Health recommended these solutions. Get up earlier. Serve breakfast earlier (you can set the table the night before.) Make breakfast a real family meal and take time to enjoy it. Vary the menu and serve it attractively. If you would streamline your figure, eat more in the morning and less at night. Eat a good breakfast to start a good morning and a good day.

SHORT STORY*The Killer's Target

By KATHRYN WILSON

JOE SAND, bank clerk, had decided to kill a man. Looking back on his 47 years, he realized how spineless they had been. Without knowing exactly what to do about it, he had long since grown tired of fetching and carrying for exacting Elmer Dunning, president of Webbville's First National bank. And what had happened lately left his spirits flatter than any ledger line.

John Morris, the cashier, resigned to take a job in an eastern city and the cashier job in the First National became the plum ready to drop into the lap of some lucky man. Joe was next in line for promotion, but he was worried.

He wanted to ask Dunning about the board's plans and didn't have the courage. The small blue eyes in his bony face filled with fear at the thought of such audacity. Somehow he couldn't stretch the narrow shoulders on his short thin frame to the necessary width of confidence.

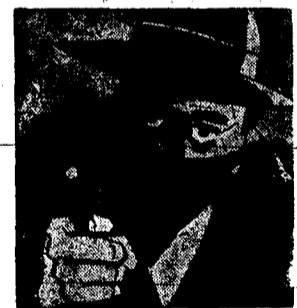

IN SHORT order Joe's hopes were dashed to oblivion. Why did some fellows have all the luck? That young upstart, Harry Coats, who'd been brought on from New York, made cashier over the heads of the four men having seniority in the bank's marble elegance! Resentment blazed high until the three younger men got to liking Coats well enough to forgive him.

But Joe Sand, thoroughly incensed, couldn't forgive. He hated Coats, he hated Dunning, he hated everybody. His thoughts were cruel hot daggers slashing every moral fiber within him. He was determined—to kill!

Dunning needn't think that Joe Sand, the slave, hadn't a chicken's guts. Just because he didn't parade a push and drive was no proof that he hadn't secret ambitions to rise in banking circles.

Joe glanced quickly around his modest room in Mrs. Miller's select boarding house. Shakily, he took a gun out of the bottom drawer of the tired-looking pine bureau, thrust it into his pocket. The weapon had belonged to his father and was rusty with neglect. It had been used for target practice in the Sand family's small back yard, but never to spill human blood. It hadn't been shot off in years. Joe hoped it wouldn't fail him — everybody and everything else had.

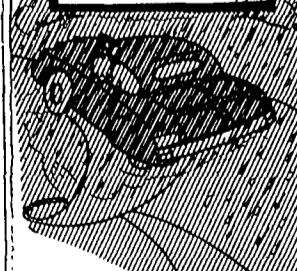

At the bank that noon Joe had to be reminded that it was time to go for his daily chocolate malt. Naturally taciturn, he was even more so now and his co-workers flung him questioning glances and whispered among themselves about what was "eating old Sande." But through it all he was grimly determined. He was doing his last duty for the stalwart old bank which had supported him for 20 years. He had to get everything in order before they took him away—after the killing. He had brought his records up to date near closing time when he happened to notice Harry Coats doing a peculiar thing. Harry, white-faced, was coming out of the vault, his arms loaded with currency.

JOE wheeled and faced a masked man on the customers' side of the cashier's window. The gun pointed at Joe was no toy. "Put 'em up or I'll drill yuh!" The intruder's gaze shifted to the rolls of bills. Joe's right hand dropped to his coat pocket.

Just in time, Joe dodged the bullet that whizzed past. But the shot he fired was followed immediately by the stranger's curse as he hit the floor.

As though jet propelled, Joe darted from behind the counter, and up to the still body.

"Careful, Joe!" warned Coats. "It's a trick—he'll shoot!"

But Joe ignored caution, knelt beside the hefty stranger, laid a hand on his bloody shirt front. Then he got quickly to his feet and announced dramatically, "The skunk's dead—quite dead!"

Something like knightly valor went sailing through Joe. Why, this was odd! Never had he felt so masterful. Why, he couldn't feel inferior to anybody or anything after this! Not afraid. Not even afraid of himself.

It was a lucky break that he hadn't gotten around to that killing he'd planned to do today. After all, it would be a pity to disgrace the Sand name. No man ever got even with anybody by putting a bullet through his own head.

seven yards and Parkinson gathering one in for a gain which was nullified by an offside penalty.

The Rams pulled the Wave up sharp at this point and the march was halted. Later in the game, the Grayling squad again took to the air, but on the second play, Ayers of Harbor intercepted a pass and the Grayling cause went glimmering.

The Wave backfield did not get much of a chance to show their worth as the Rams held the ball most of the time. Still Bob Rasmussen and Parkinson turned in some good running. They proved tough to haul down even when their blocking was not too good.

Grayling racked up six first downs to the Rams eight and completed 6 out of 11 passes for a gain of 152 yards. The Harbor team completed 4 out of 8 passes for a 119 yard gain. Ernie Miller and Axel Peterson deserve a word of praise for good defensive play and Trudeau's passing was the best so far this year.

Coach Bogart said, "Even though we were defeated, it was one of our best games. Joel Ayers of Harbor was the best back we have met this year. Our line did terrific job in holding him down."

Jack Green, Lansing Associated Press writer, forecasts that repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment will be defeated by popular vote.

Comment by Henry Steffins, director of the Michigan Survey, a state taxpayer organization: "So long as sales tax revenues keep rising 10 or 20 per cent every year, the state may be able to forestall drastic measures. To most observers seem to think that diversion will not be repealed until the people can see in black and white the disastrous effects it is having on the state."

Judgment of the writer of the "Michigan Mirror": "The taxpayer is yet to be convinced that school, city and state government needs cannot be adequately financed out of present taxes."

As the long supreme court of bowing and taxes keep mounting everything may appear to be rosy at Lansing. When deflation sets in, trouble is inevitable."

Proposal No. 3 on the special ballot would permit the state legislature to fix salaries of state elective officials. The constitutional salary of Governor Kim Sigler, as set according to 1909 standards, is $5,000. The same sum is earmarked for the attorney general. The 1909 constitution also fixes the salary of secretary of state, state treasurer and auditor general at $2,500 a year.

How does Michigan manage to induce qualified citizens to serve as a state official? Answer: By a legislative subterfuge, upheld by the state supreme court, of allowing either an additional salary for membership on the state administrative board, or in the case of the governor, as "expense account" with no strings attached.

Governor Dewey and Governor Warren are paid $25,000 a year by their respective states—New York and California. A further adjustment in the governor's compensation may be forthcoming in the future when the governor's residence at Lansing is ready for occupancy.

Ballot Proposal No. 4 would permit adjustment of the $3 per day salary now paid to members of the state legislature. Since this amount is paid daily, whether the legislature is in session or not, the year's compensation averages $1,095.

New York paid $2,500 a year plus actual traveling expenses for a round trip once a week; Pennsylvania, $3,000 for each session; Illinois, $5,000 for two year term plus 10 cents a mile traveling expense; and Ohio, $2,000 a year plus traveling mileage once a week.

On a basis of compensation for time served at Lansing during a session of the legislature, Michigan legislators receive the following salary: 1947 session, 168 days, $5.95 per day; 1948 special session, 87 days, $15 per day.

Twenty-one states now permit the legislature to fix salaries of its members, but not for the term for which members are elected.

Other ballot issues are as follows: Proposal No. 5: An amendment to modify the 15-mill limitation.

Proposal No. 6: A referendum on the act to regulate and control the operation of foreign agencies within the State.

Separate Ballot: A referendum on the question of calling a convention for the purpose of general revision of the constitution.
